Best of luck to a swell guy in Biology. Sorry the class isn't too easy and test, but I'm sure you did great.

Don,

To the guy that plays football, baseball, & track, to one who understands right where he's at, to one who walks so fast, & I'm done at last.

Todd Eastman "85"

Don,

Boy I tell you, it's about time we get out of here. But we all have to be back again and again and again. Have fun this summer. God Bless you take care. See ya next year.

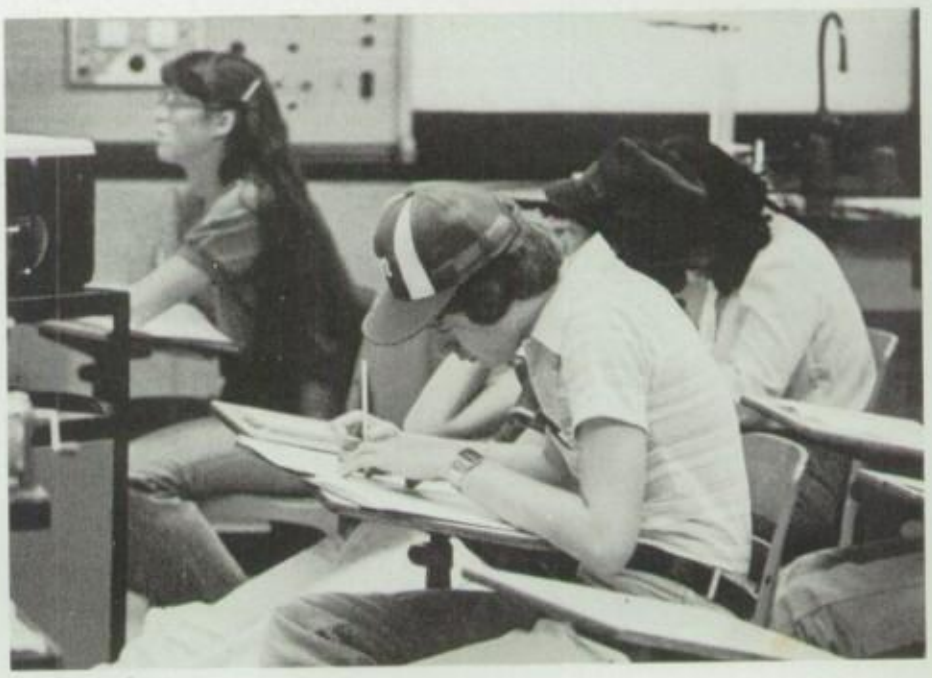
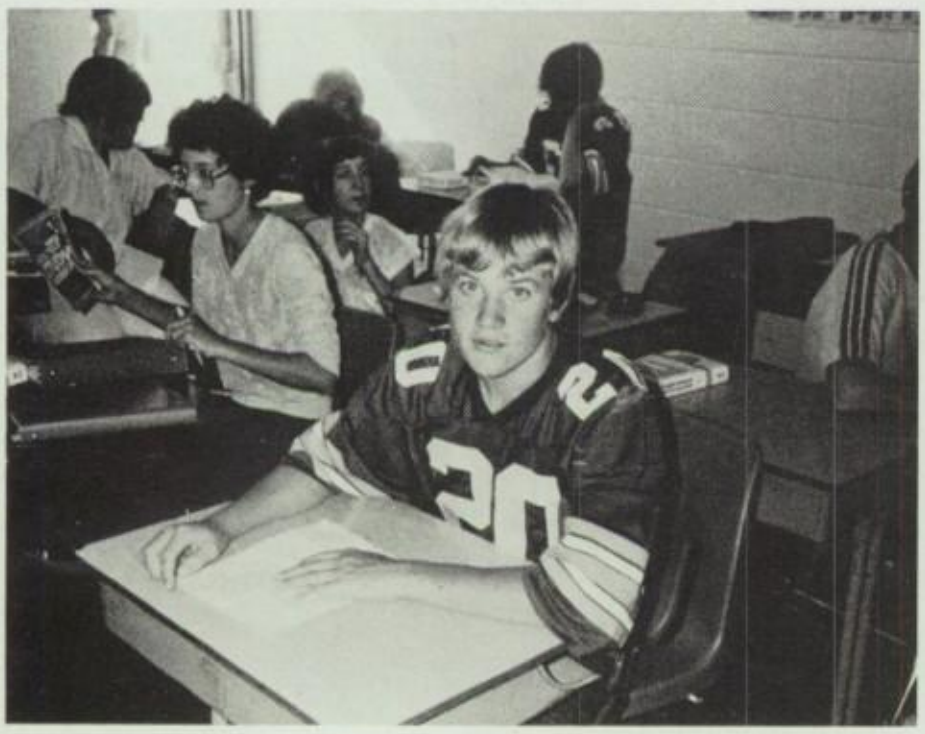
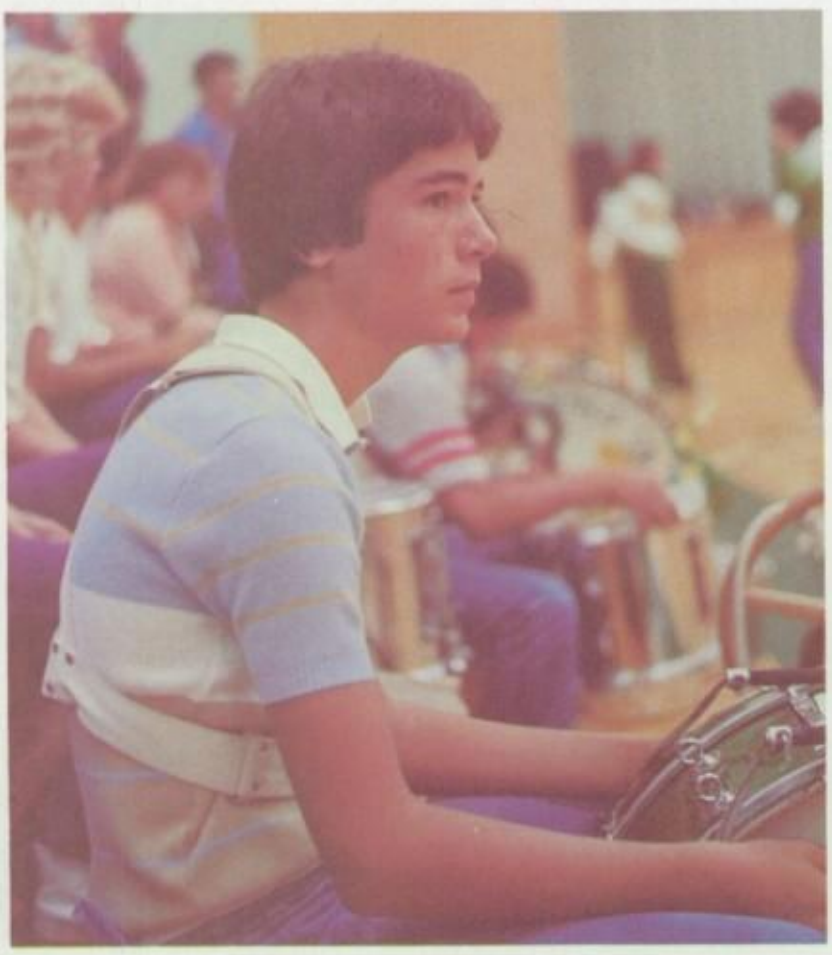
As all our memories begin today

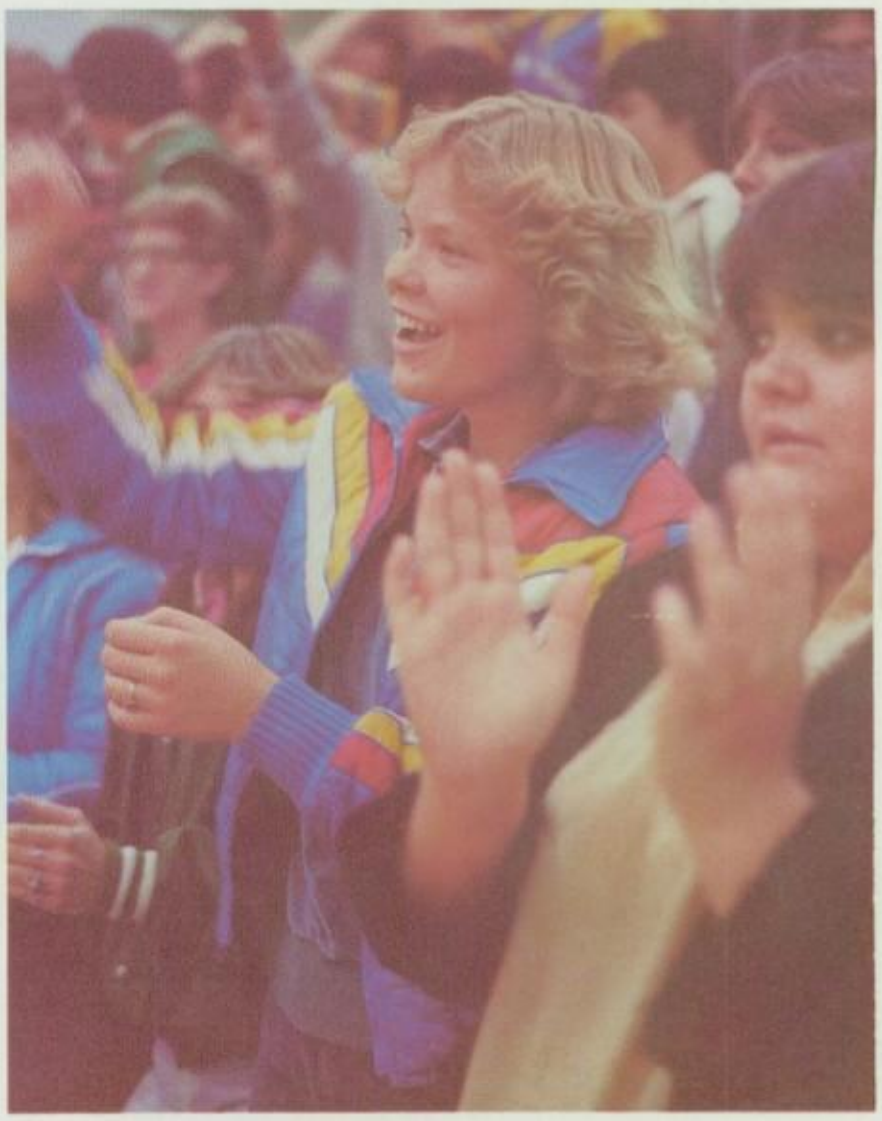




Great moments that happen
have only to stay

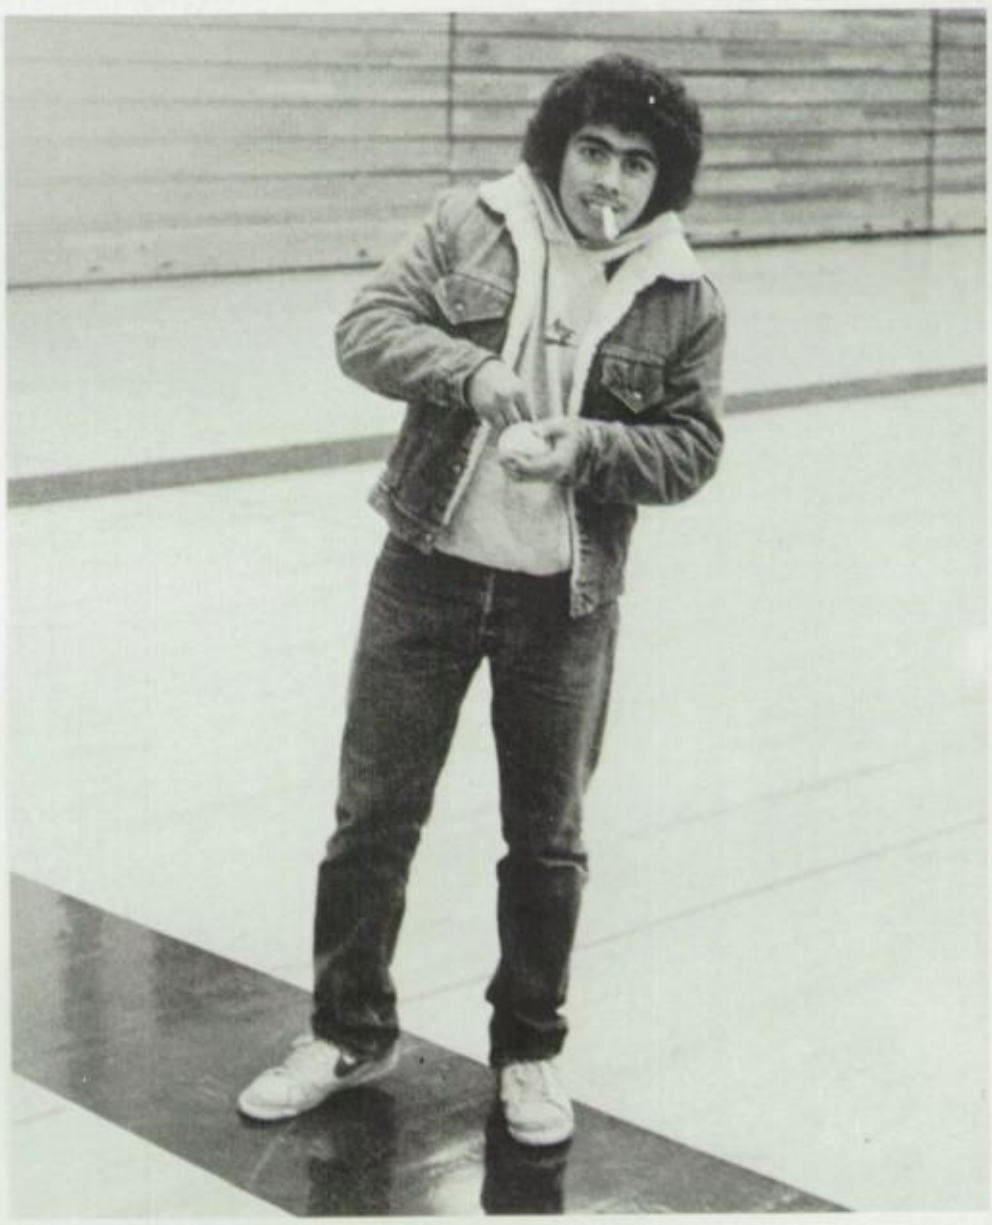
And as we live each day as one
The time is filled,
each detail done





So as you see, today isn't lost
For the memory lives on
In our minds embossed.

We'll always remember
That this is the way



That now we are living
Tomorrow's memories today.

Officers Show Leadership

Student Council, a service oriented organization consisting of 21 elected members and the honorary member, (Gastone Guglielmina) concluded its 1981-82 service campaign with the annual Spring Sports Assembly.

Throughout the year, Student Council provided a vast range of activities aimed at making the Pueblo County High experience more enjoyable. Activities included seasonal assemblies and the all-famous freshman initiation and Kangaroo Court.

Along with planning student activities, Student Council serves as a direct verbal line between students and administration. Student Council's major project for the school year was setting plans and ideas for landscaping the campus.

Gastone

GASTONE GUGLIELMINA

Gastone Guglielmina is Pueblo County High's senior foreign exchange student for the 1981-82 school year. Although he was born in Monterrey, Mexico, he has lived in Chihuahua since he was two years old. Both of his parents were born in Italy, his father from Romagnano Sesia (near Torino), and his mother from Milano. Then they moved to Mexico. As a result of this and his schooling, Gastone has the benefit of speaking three languages, including Italian, which he speaks at home; Spanish which he speaks at school; and English, which he speaks in America. His father owns his own business and his mother is an Italian teacher at Chihuahua University.

Gastone is 17 years old, he has an older sister Maria, a younger sister Carla, and a younger brother Alessio. He is the son of Carlo and Etta Guglielmina. Here in Colorado, Gastone lives wtih Mike and Sue Giarratano. As they don't have any children living at home, Gastone is a welcome addition.

Gastone is involved in Student Council, he is the treasurer of Italian Club, and was the kicker for the varsity football team.

He finds that some American schools are stricter than Mexican schools. He also said that the classes he attended in Mexico are similar to those he attends here. He graduated from Instituto Tecnologico Y De Estudios Superiores De Estudios Superiores De Monterrey Unidad Chihuahua the year before coming here to County. The campus there is high school-college combination. After graduating from P.C.H.S., Glastone would like to pursue a career in engineering. In Mexico, Gastone was a member of the soccer team, which placed second in the city the last year he was there. He enjoys participating in many sports, including swimming and fishing. He also likes to go out with his friends.

Because Chicuahua is so close to the United States' border, he says that the American customs are similar to his. He thinks the people of Colorado are very friendly and he has enjoyed his stay here. He would like to come back to visit, or possibly to study here.

Gastone fits in very well with America and Pueblo County High. All of those people who know him, or have just talked to him, find a very warm and friendly person that everyone is glad to know.

Baby Hornets Show Pride

"The Seniors do it, why can't we?"

"Last one there is a freshmen for eternity!"

Freshman initiation has long been a tradition at PCHS. Student Council provides the activities and the freshmen always provide the laughs. The week's activities began on Tuesday, October 27, and ended on Thursday, October 29, with the hilarity of kangaroo court, where the freshmen get a chance to lose their baby hornet status by performing unusual stunts in front of the whole student body and faculty.

Juniors Cage Seniors

Cageball

One of the highlights of the 1981-82 Homecoming activities was the traditional competion between the junior and senior class girls — this year it was a cageball game. The juniors masterminded an upset victory with the score Juniors 2, Seniors 1.

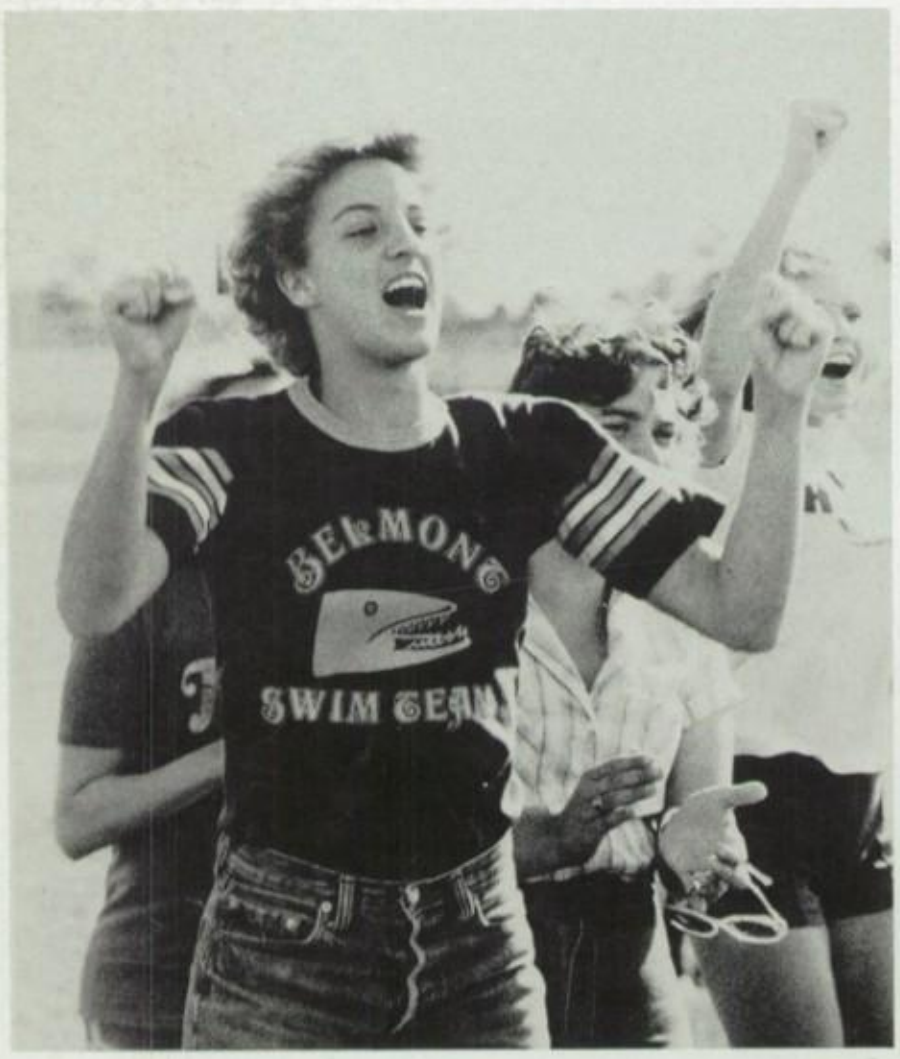
The game was played on a sunny Thursday morning. The field was muddy, making the ball slippery and hard to handle. The ball being three times as large as any player on the field, presented a true challenge in maneuverability. Both teams, each consisting of fifteen players, therefore played a spirited game of "push and shove."

Sondra Shineovich, captain of the senior class team, made up the rules, which were implemented by referrees Ms. Villegas, Mr. Radiff, and Mr. Shefcyck. The Junior class team was captained by Brenda Autobee, who inspired her team to overcome insurmountable odds by pushing and shoving their way to victory. Brenda attributed their success to long, grueling two minute training, player position, and lots of luck.

Fortunately, there were no casualties in spite of poor field conditions. Needless to say, the seniors were disappointed.

King of the mountain? No just a friendly game of cageball.

Seniors excited about their first score, which was to be their only point.



Skoozie cheers her team to victory.

We tape our memories to the wall,
As if to cling unto them all.
But the truth is really deep down inside,
And from it we can't always hide.
The fear we have of leaving here,
As the path for some is not so clear.
But try to see that we'll show the way,
To those following on a later day.
If only the time wouldn't slip by so fast,
Let's try to hold on and make it last.
So many thoughts and dreams to know,
Always performing show after show.
Tears of saying goodbye to our friends,
Hoping their love for us never ends.
Love comes and goes without a thought,
Yet reflections, are within and forever caught.
Now suddenly it's over, the work is all done,
The old life is over the new's just begun.
We stare down quietly at the empty halls,
Watching again as the final curtain falls.

Seniors Show Their Spirit

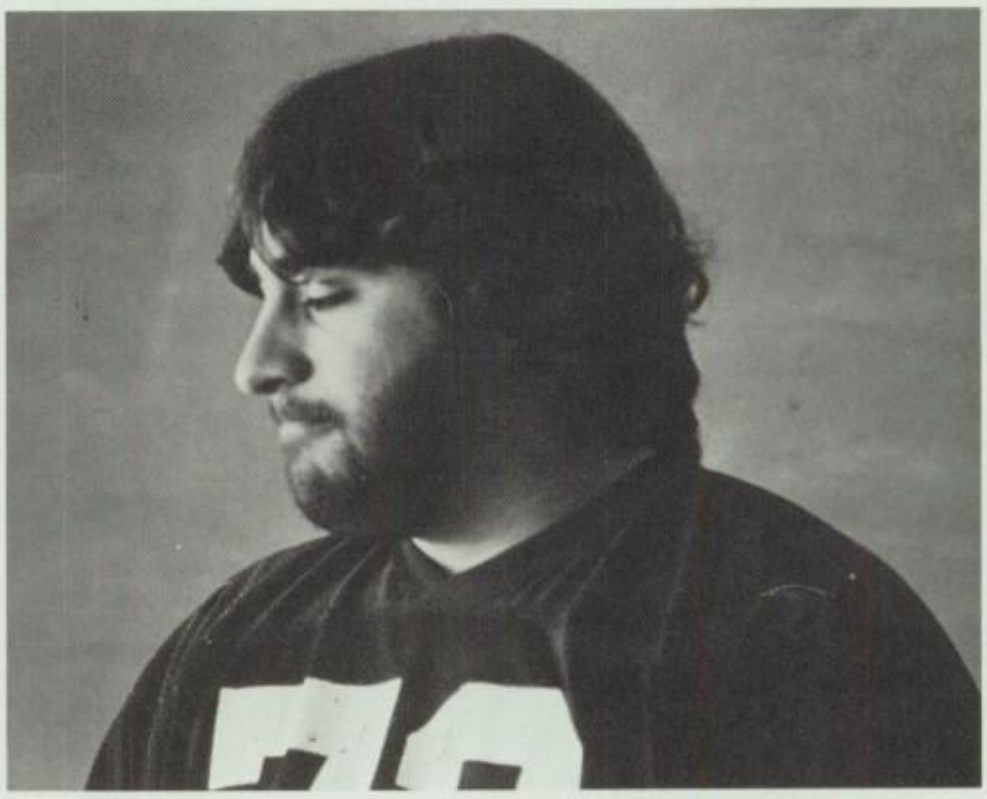
Say "Cheese".

Charlie's Angels? No, they're the Senior Class Officers.

Ta-daa!

Junior Miss Candidates from P.C.H.S.

Another Einstien?



Don't nap! You'll miss Graduation!

Whose shoes are these?

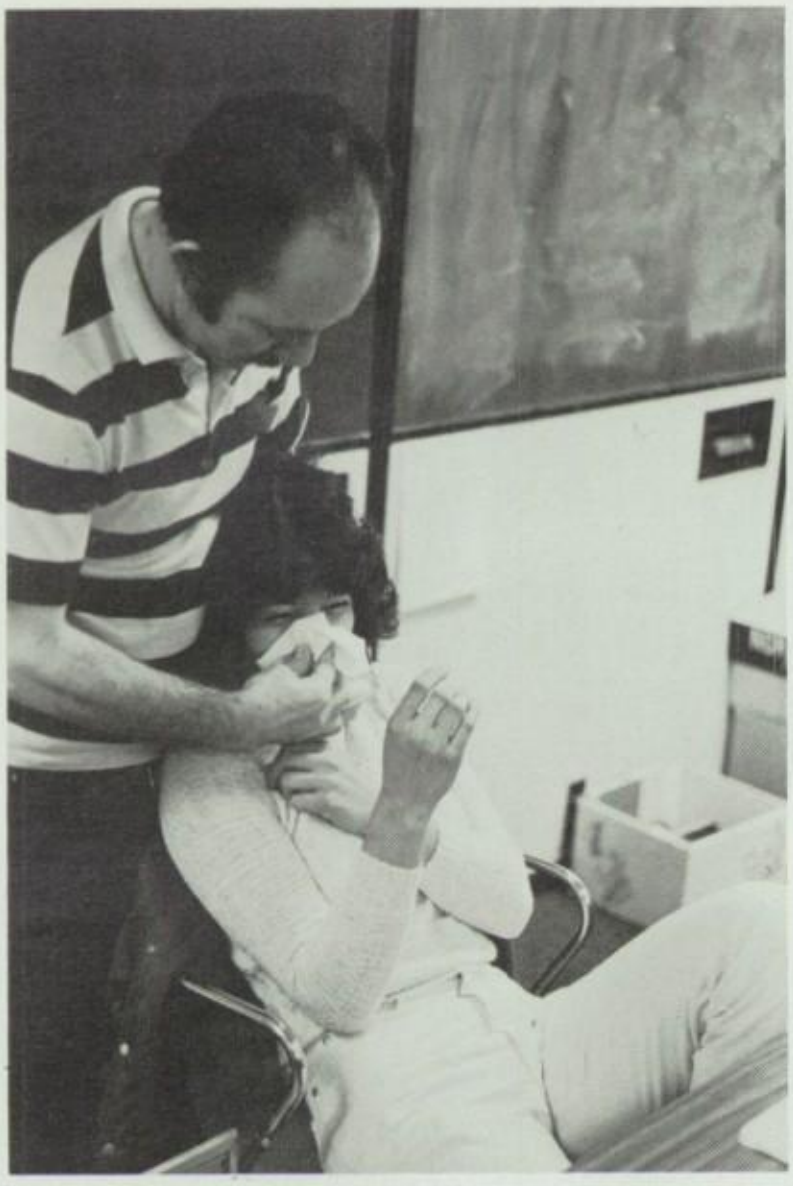
They're my shoes. You wanna buy them?

Hmm . . . let's see here.

Mommy, I've got a tummy ache.

Just leave me ALONE!

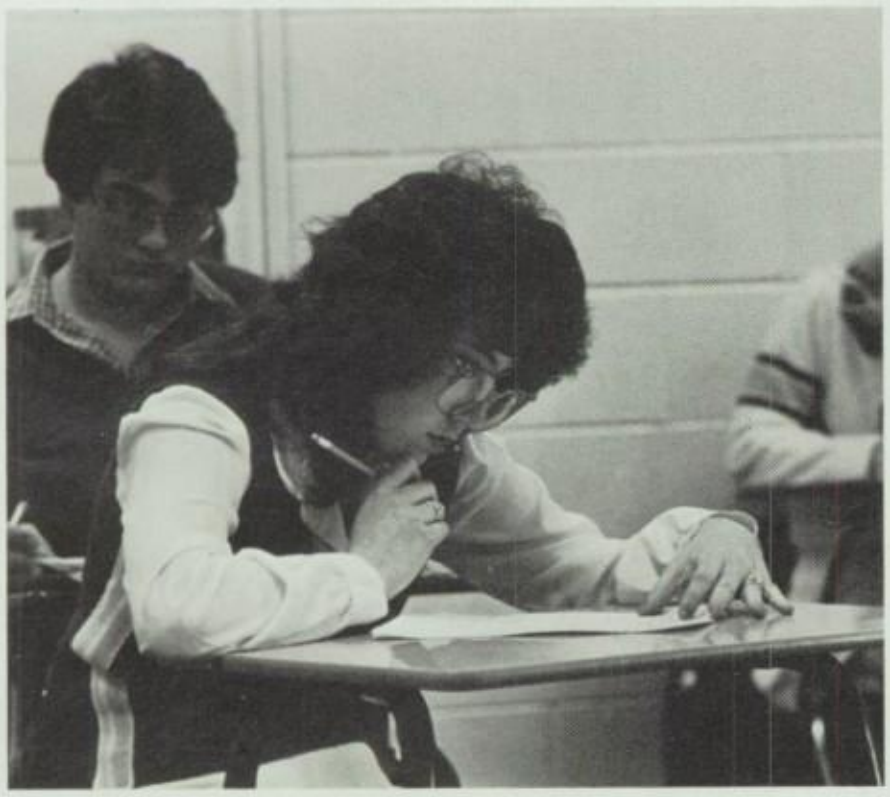
Senioritis attacked us all
And spread like a plague down the hall
We have to admit, the truth is there
Seniors are excellent, not just fair



Lerlyn, wipe your nose.

Is she jive'n me?

Hang in there, Mike.



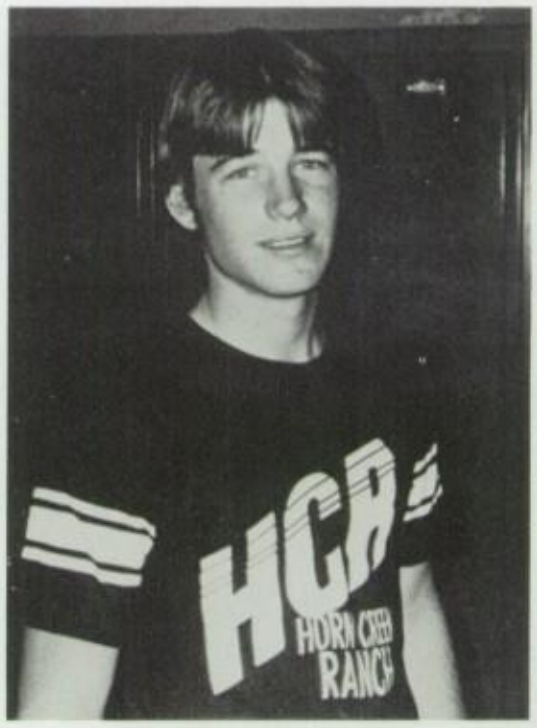
I don't remember going over this!

We reigned over all, with innocent glee
We were the object of jealousy
But do not worry, your time will come
Because as of now, our work is done.

Penny Stanelle

Thats right, I'm bad.

Oh, what is it?



What are you looking at?

Wanna hear what I did this weekend?

Another routine?

What was the question again?

Oh, no, I made a boo-boo!

What did you say was in here?

Good stuff, Maynard.

Paula's on the run.

Listening to this Go-Go stuff is getting me down.

What did you say?

Gina's re-enjoying her childhood.

Got it!

Aren't I cute?

SENIORS ARE

Where did everyone go?

Anatomy makes me laugh!

Hey, cutie! What's your name?

Watch out! I'm gonna sneeze again!

Not again!

The only one that looked.

THE MAIN EVENT

I just lost my first tooth!

Oh, gee! This time I hope I don't fall!

Good excuse, Sondra!

I thought spring was suppose to be fun.

Another day spent on the cube.

I thought you said I could eat it!

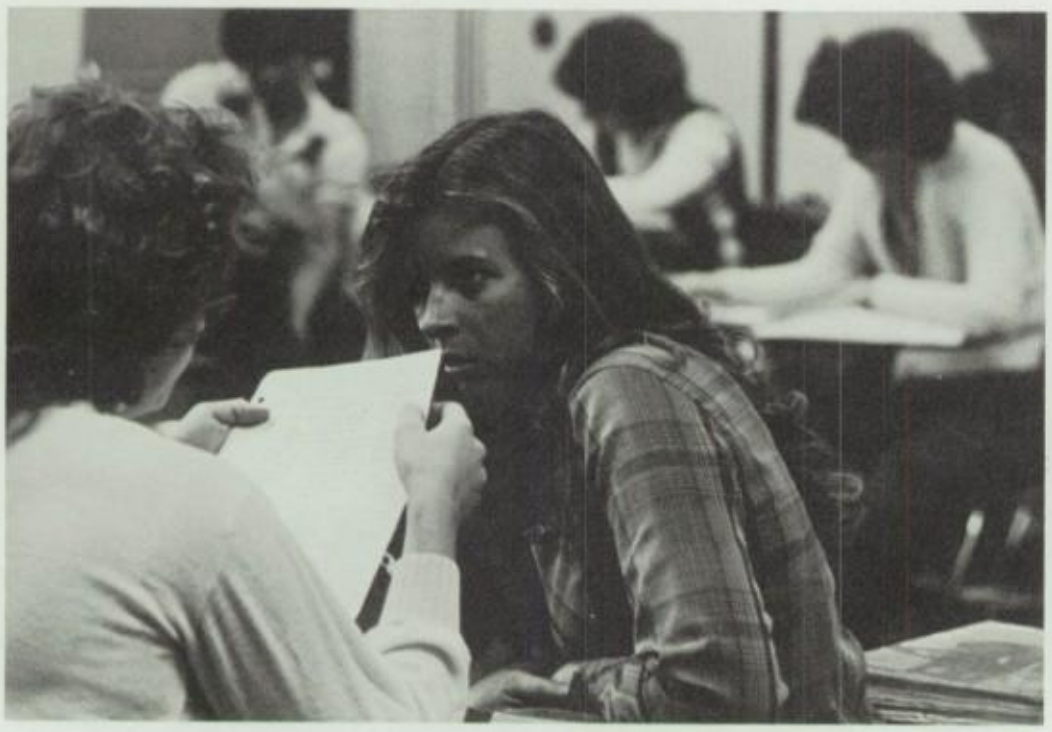
You wanna what?

Jail Birds.

You're so beautiful to me!

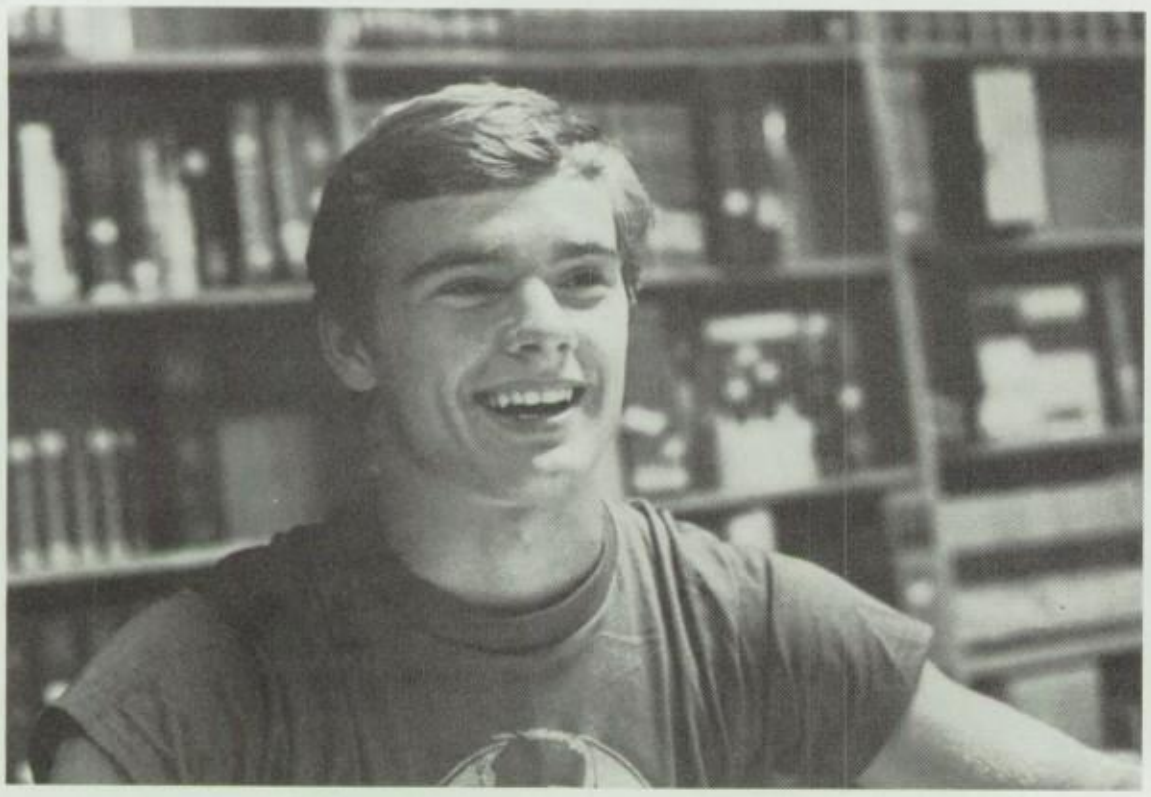
Ooh-la-la!

Now Really!



In a panic over Mr. Grishow's brutal tests.

Open wide.



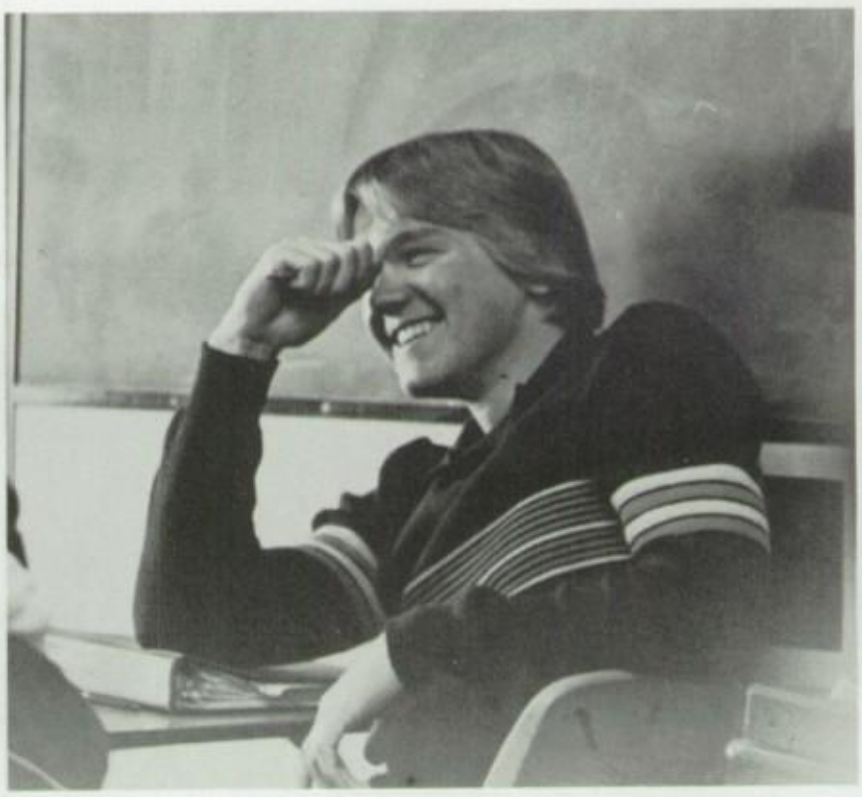
Pain is my friend.

Sunny contemplates life.

How immature.

First door on the right?

Say that to my face.



It's due tomorrow? — What a joke.

Best of buddies.

I can't believe you did that!

We dare ya!

We aren't cheating!

Who took my lunch?

Take off, eh!

I can hardly wait till Friday.

What a swinger.

You wrecked my what?

We clutter our walls with achievements
Then we watch them fall back down
We build bright rainbows to climb on
As we travel the world around
Tomorrow will find the true dreams
As yesterday showed them, too
Now watch us prosper and watch us grow
We'll be the achievers for what we know.

I didn't know-this was last semester's notebook.

How did you say you'd pay me?

What am I doing here?

You want it now?

I'd like to thank the Academy . . .

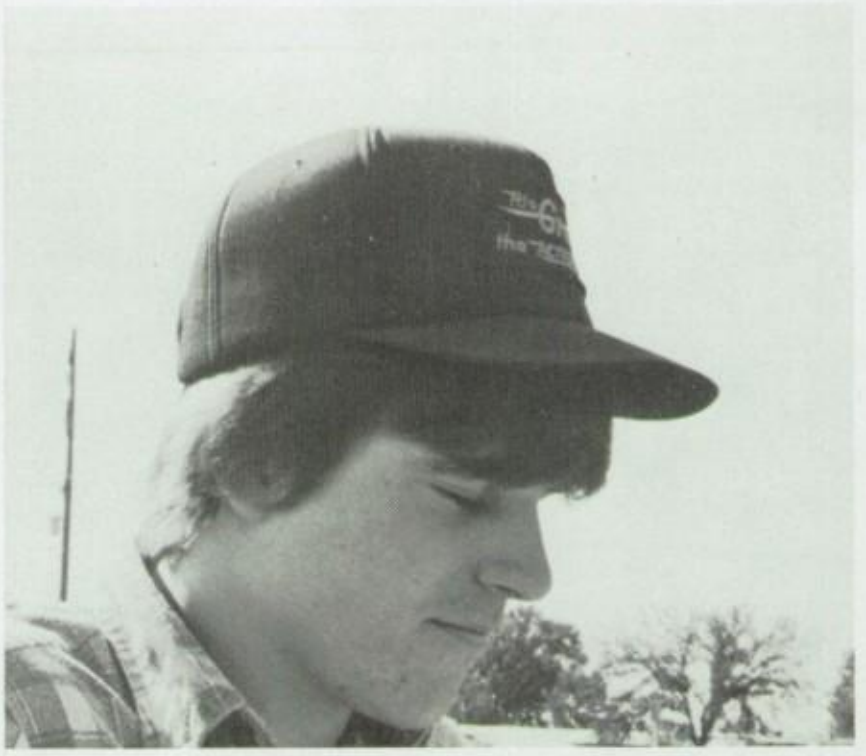
I bet I can eat the whole thing.

Don't even talk to me!

I bet you could put both those apples in your mouth.

No! You can't have my ball!

Don't, Chuck, people are staring.

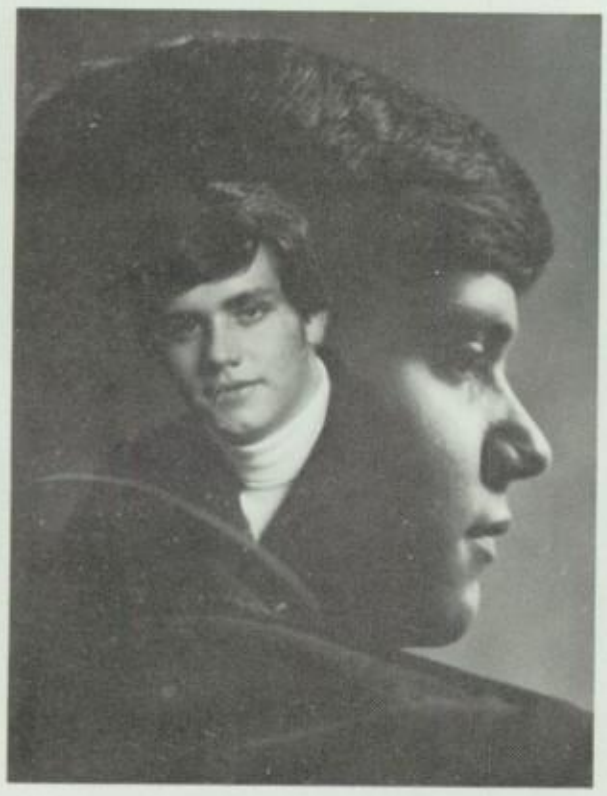


What a dream that would be.

Everyone come to my party this Friday!

Yes, my head feels like a football, and, yes, I think I'm gonna die!

Which way did annual staff go?



In Memory of Russell Laino

February 7, 1982

I remember a pep assembly once, the cheerleaders were congratulating and wishing luck to all the teams. When Lisa Lane, our head cheerleader, announced she had a special award for an outstanding individual who painstakingly painted the barrels the girls stand on at football games. When she called Rusty's name, the whole school stood and gave him a standing ovation.

He was the kind of guy everybody liked, the teachers said he was polite and considerate, always a gentlemen. His friends knew him as a guy who would never let them down, always there to help them whenever they needed him.

I remember Rusty because he always stood up for what he thought was right, but he was also willing to accept the ideas of others when they convinced him they were right.

But most of all, I remember Rusty as a typical boy with a love for life, a little mischievious, but never malicious. So, at this time of extreme sadness for his family and all of us who knew him, I ask you to remember the good he did because if you do, you will never forget him.

On behalf of the staff and students at Pueblo County High — thanks Rusty for coming our way. We all love you and are going to miss you very much but we will never forget you.

We're the Hornets, yes indeed.
We can do most anything.
We've got pride,
We're alive,
We're the class of '85!

Let the good times roll

Maybe I did lock my keys in my truck.

They don't need this one — they have others.

Can you see my cheat sheet?

Most likely to be school janitors.

KLOMP'S KORNER

The 1981-82 school year has been extremely enjoyable for all of us. We have had the opportunity to see our staff and students work closely together, not just in a teacher-student relationship, but in a spirt of common purpose. We commend all of our students this year for the outstanding job that they have done to bring us back to a position of pride in our school and ourselves. Each year continues to bring new challenges, and next year will certainly be a great one; however, for now we salute the "Class of 1982" for a JOB WELL DONE!

These people who care and who show us the way
Watch over us in both our work and our play.
They teach us about life and the way it should be
Then as adults, and not children, they let us go free.

Thespians Present

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

The fall play "You Can't Take It With You" was a lively 1930's comedy done in authentic detail by County's own Thespian Troupe 998. It contrasted the antics of the unorthodox Sycamore family and the rich, proper, stuffy Kirbys. The romance of Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby is disrupted by the conflicts in values between their families. Take two young lovers, add a noisy Russian ballet teacher, a drunken actress, the F.B.I., an exiled Grand Duchess, a fireworks explosion, and a wise old man. What do you get? A warm, funny evening of theatre. All agreed the play was an outstanding success.

"You Can't Take It With You"

Halloween Bewitches County

Halloween hit County a day early this year. Many students joined in on the howling festivities. Some dressed up as rabbits and goblins, the Headless Horseman even saddled his steed. Others attended the Halloween dance. By the end of the day most of County's spooks were ready for the real thing - Saturday, October thirty-first, the night when the Boogie Man himself would be out smashing jack-o-lanterns.

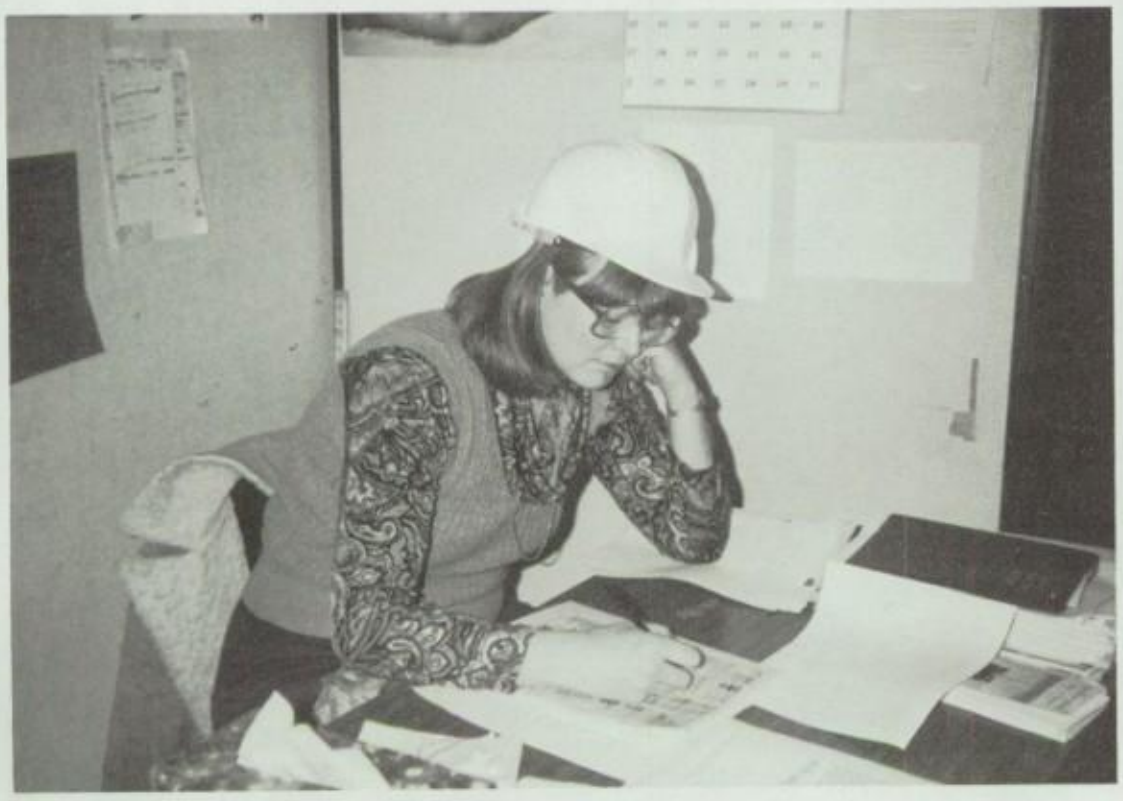
'Putting on my top hat'

On February 5, 1982, Queen Kiersten and her court reigned over the traditional Winter Sports activities. This year's theme was "Precious Time." Student Council worked very hard to make the assembly a success, as well as the other related activities. Annual Staff sponsored the dance with Sweetness and Company providing the entertainment.



They're coming for who? Me?

The class teaches students how to design layouts, write copy, crop and fit pictures, and organize your memories to make the year one to remember. We hope that all the hard work pays off and makes this year's yearbook the best ever!

Marching Band

MARCHING BAND

There is a lot more to the 1981-82 Hornet Band than meets the eye. The band is composed of not only instruments and players but Flag Girls and a Twirler, too. Most of County's student body only gets to see and hear the band perform at pep rallies or games. The band practices everyday, not only to improve skills but to learn new and different ways of playing and presenting their selected music.

Did not finish season*

The varsity football teamed ended its season with a loss to a tough Loveland team in the state 3A quarterfinal playoffs. The loss was only the third for the Hornets who recorded the best overal record in the school's history and nailed down a Southern Colorado League championship.

This success surprised some people who thought that the team lacked the experience to have a successful season. In the first games of the season the Hornets proved a point by beating Centennial, Fruita, and 4A Grand Junction before losing a tight one to Canon City on homecoming. The Hornets came back with strength, blasting Cheyenne Mountain, and Alamosa before losing another tight game to Trinidad. At this point the Hornets had to win to gain a playoff berth. The team responded by beating Canon City and LaJunta in two physical games. This created a 7-2 record overall and a 4-1 league record.

The team then was in a 3-way tie for first place in the league with Trinidad and Canon City. The Hornets again rose to the occasion, beating Canon in the second half of a California playoff, before the final loss to Loveland.

The County Gymnasts had one Super Season. They started off by getting invited to two invitational meets, with Aurora Hinkely placing 7th, and Cherry Creek placing 6th out the top twenty teams of Colorado. At League, County blew the others teams away with a 166.07, placing five out of six places on Bars and Vault. And placing four in the Beam and Floor.

After a great League meet, the gymnasts faced a disappointment losing to Central. Over all Michele Mauro took first in the all around, showing Central's Coach that other people can do it besides her team. Michele and Rosy then went to state doing a great job, with Michele taking fourth on the Vault.

The Gymnasts are losing four outstanding girls: Rosy Rusler, Lisa Lane, Jnaice Sutton, Debbie Dinero, and Kim Bracco. But the team still has tremendous girls Michele Mauro, Carolyn Garcia, Deanne McLain, Shelia Taylor, and Shari Siegfreid. But there's just one name that fits the County Gymnasts — they're AWESOME.

Coach Dennis Schefcyk commented, "It was a very successful tennis season. The members of the team worked hard during the summer and the dedication and hard work paid off in the regular season." Their record was 7-2.

The average points per game scored by the Hornet squad was 60.9 compared to the 58.1 scored by opposing teams. The Hornet cagers finished the season tied for second place with Alamosa. Horent Varsity coach Jim Nolting said, "This was a super year, just a few points separated a 9-9 season from a 17-1 season."

He adds, "This season was a lot of fun, but I wished some of the games would have been closer."

Richard Giadone takes 2nd at State!

The County High wrestling team completed its dual meet season this year with a 7-2 record, losing only to Class AA state champs Rocky Ford and Class AAA fourth place finisher Montrose. The team was 5-0 in Southern Colorado League action. They won both the league title and then went on to become District Tournament Champions for the second year in a row. This was the first time in County High history that the team won both the league and district championships. The team also qualified the most wrestlers to the Class AAA state tournament, and they finished in 14th place. Two individuals received medals in the tournament: Richard Giadone-2nd place at 167 lbs; and Paul Davied-6th place at 132 lbs. "One thing good about it all, is that all nine state qualifiers will be returning for next season," said Coach David Styduhar.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

This was a season of high points and some disappointments. One of the high points was playing Pueblo South within two points, which is the closest anyone has come to them this season. Another was the improvement of many young players, juniors and sophomores, that should provide good leadership and experience for the team next year, as County moves into the combined League with the South Central League.

Leading the team this year were seniors Deanna Heller, Lerlyn Bueno, Carla Soto, Karen Springfield and Ursula Matuzak who played with consistency throughout the season. Ursula was one of the leagues' leading scorers with an average of 12.4.

One disappointment was the loss of Carol Barker to injury which hurt the continuity of our season. Another was not advancing in Post Tournament play, the first time this has happened in 4 yrs.

County Goes to State

November 13, 1981

A warm, fall afternoon, high hopes of winning and advancing in the state playoffs, and pride that we had made it that far, all contributed to the pageantry of the day. Unfortunately, the magic of the day did not carry over onto the playing field and we lost to Loveland 16-0.

Thespians Present Dinner Theater

ONE ACTS

The Dinner Theater was sponsored by the English Department and Drama Club to raise needed funds. The dinner theater was catered by Giodon's, and Thespians produced two one-act plays, "Two Crooks and a Lady", directed by Della Fitzsimmons, and "The Ugly Duckling", directed by Eric Austin.

The dinner theater was successful and will become an annual event, giving student directors, casts, and crews a chance to show what they can do.

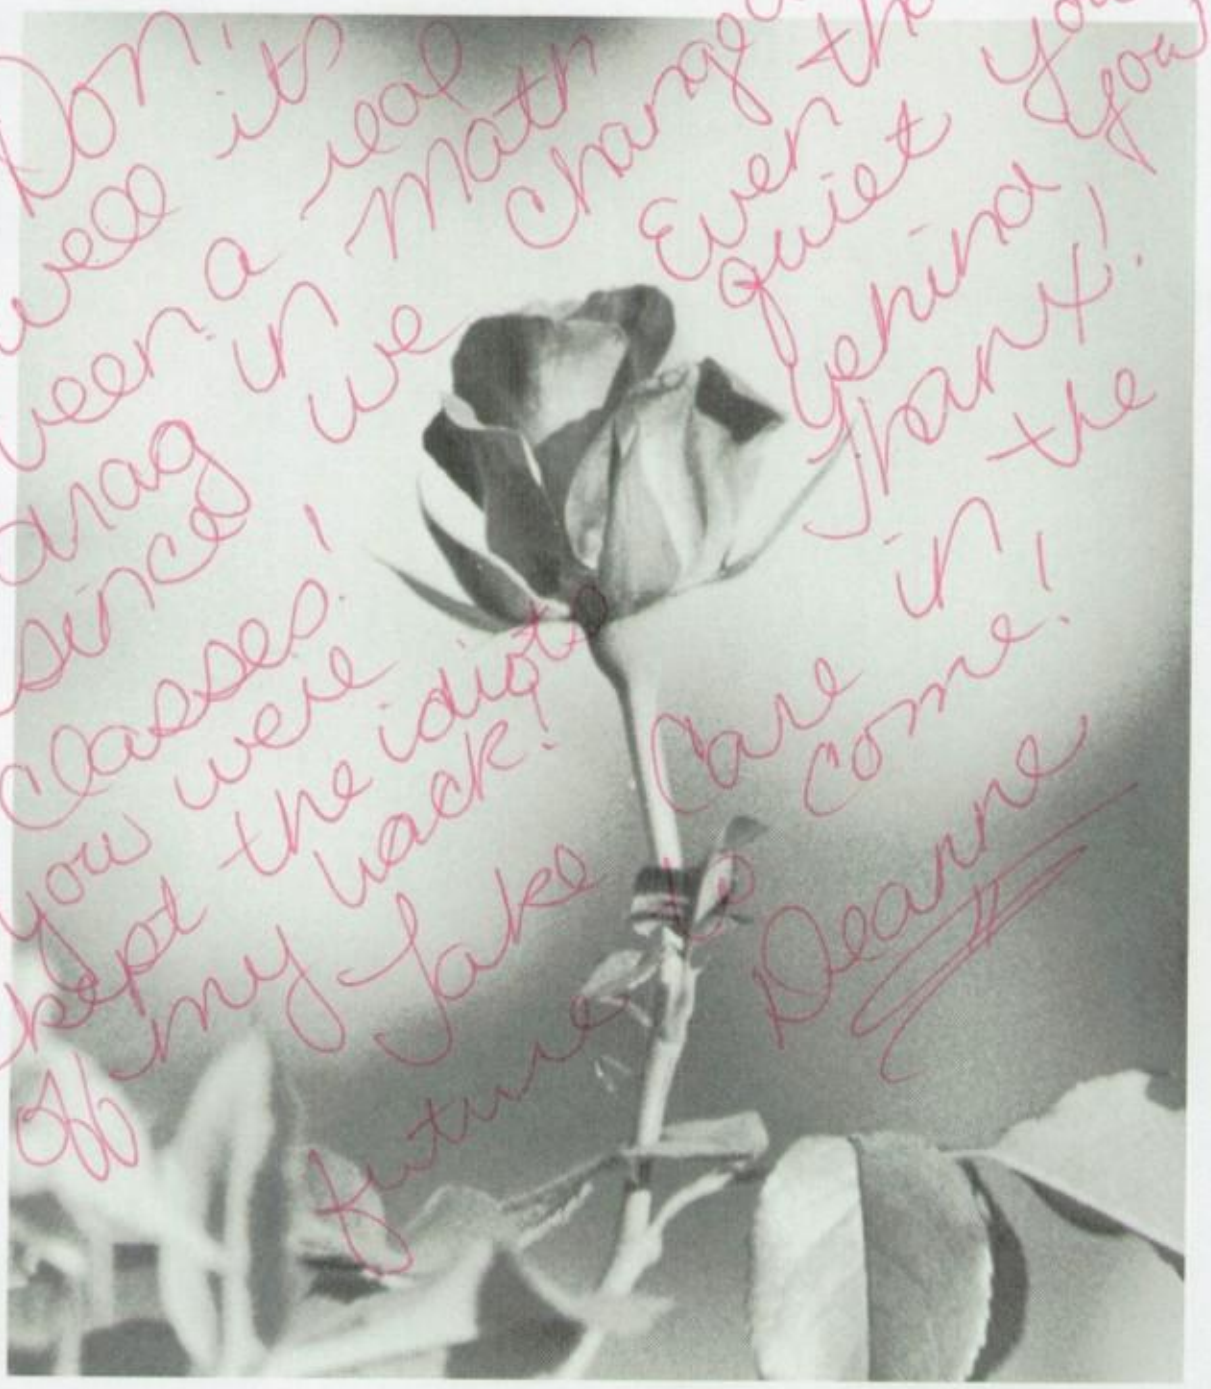
Living Tomorrow's Memories Today



As all of our memories begin today
Great moments that happen
Have only to stay
And as we live each day as one
The time is filled, each detail is done
So as you see, today isn't lost
For the memory lives on
In our minds embossed
We'll always remember
That this is the way
That now we are living
Tomorrow's memories today
